Since 2019 we have launched a sterile production line at our headquarters, here in Poland, thanks to which we are able to manufacture medical customized packs and surgical sets, to be used during medical procedures and specialist operations.

Help to save lives is a privilege and a huge responsibility, this is why we work with products with the highest quality standards, and we take full responsibility for the quality of worldwide. We comply with the international ISO standards for the Medical Devices.

Having gained a leading position in the Polish market, allowed us to look for the future with optimism and enthusiasm, and to focus on the development and improvement of our products and our range. From a local company, becoming a global company with international expansion was full of challenges and satisfactions, and it became a part of our organization's DNA.
